College Gardens Park

Resident Survey on Park Amenities

The City of Rockville is working with representatives of the College Gardens Civic Association and the Plymouth Woods Citizens Association to study the possible inclusion of a Storm Water Management (SWM) facility in College Gardens Park, or in Upper Watts Branch Park (Forest Preserve), or possibly both. Comprehensive information regarding this project is posted on the College Gardens Civic Association Web site: www.CollegeGardens.org.

While a key goal of this project is to minimize disruption to the existing park serving College Gardens and surrounding neighborhoods, the addition of a SWM facility, likely will have a larger footprint than the existing “duck pond.” It may result in the need to redesign, relocate, and reconstruct some College Gardens Park amenities. Some of these amenities could be eliminated and some new amenities may be added. These amenity changes could include the shelter building, the shade gazebo, the playground, the sand volleyball court, the softball field, the basketball courts and other park features. If such changes become necessary to accommodate the SWM facility, the goal will be to redesign the park based on the expressed desires of the residents from College Gardens and other nearby neighbors.

We want your opinions on amenities that a potentially redesigned College Gardens Park should include. Please tell us what park features you believe are most important to include in a redesigned park by completing the survey below. We ask that you indicate your preferences by numbering the listed amenities in priority order, with the most important amenity as #1, your second most important amenity as #2, and so on. Please use each number only once. Thank you for your participation in this important survey.
